- 12 The general muzzleloader elk season will open on a Wednesday in 2005. The season begins November 2.
- 13 General muzzleloader elk hunters may not harvest an antlerless elk with their muzzleloader permit. General muzzleloader any bull elk hunters may only hunt any bull areas.
- 14 Beginning in 2005, nonresident big game permits include a season fishing license. If a nonresident purchases a fishing license, in addition to receiving a big game permit, the Division will not issue a refund for the fishing license.
- 15 The new deadline to join the Dedicated Hunter Program is January 31. If you join the Dedicated Hunter Program, you cannot apply for general deer permits through the drawing. For more information about the Dedicated Hunter Program, see Page 25 or visit the DWR Web site: wildlife.utah.gov/rules/r657-38.html

- 16 Hunters desiring to surrender a permit, in order to obtain another permit for the same species, must do so prior to the season opening date of the permit to be surrendered. Dedicated Hunters desiring to surrender their Dedicated Hunter Permit must do so prior to August 20, 2005 (the opening of the general archery deer season).

In order to do so, that person must obtain either a general season (rifle) or a general muzzleloader permit for a specific region. See Section XVII.
- 19 Nine Mile, Range Creek South elk unit has special regulations: Private lands remain under any bull regulations. Public lands are limited entry and permits must be obtained through the drawing. Access is restricted and very difficult.
- 20 The Ogden extended archery area portion of the Wasatch Front extended archery deer area is a buck-only hunt. See Section XVII.A.
- 21 Because of concerns about Chronic Wasting Disease, rules apply to importation or transportation of dead mule deer, elk and white-tailed deer through or into Utah. See Section IX.D. Check the DWR Web site for up-to-date information about CWD.
- 22 Mandatory reporting: Premium limited entry, limited entry, CWMU and Once-in-a-Lifetime hunters must report hunt information via the DWR Web site or toll-free at 1-800-221-0659 whether the permit holder was successful or unsuccessful in harvesting an animal. Hunters who fail to report will be ineligible to apply for the above permits or bonus points in the following year.
- 23 Archery Ethics Course Certificate of Completion Required: Successful completion of an archery hunter's ethics course and possession of the certificate while hunting is required to participate in any Extended Archery hunt. The orientation course is in addition to the Hunter Education requirement. The orientation course is available online through the DWR Web site. See Section XVII.A. for deer and XVIII.A. for elk.
- 24 Hunter orange must be worn when any centerfire rifle hunt is in progress in the same area, including CWMUs and extended archery areas. For exceptions, see Section V.B.

Responsible OHV use

The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources encourages responsible OHV use. While most OHV users are responsible, misuse results in disturbance to wildlife, damage to wildlife habitat, and personal injury.

Please be aware that unlawful OHV use is a criminal offense. Utah Division of Wildlife Resources' Conservation Officers and State Parks & Recreation's Rangers regularly enforce all OHV regulations, including:

- ✗ riding an OHV in closed or restricted areas and roadways;
- ✗ harassment of wildlife;
- ✗ helmet-law regulations; and
- ✗ OHV operator age restriction regulations.

Many designated roads and trails on public lands are available to responsible OHV users. You may obtain a copy of a "Travel Opportunity Guide" from the appropriate federal land management agencies (USDA Forest Service or Bureau of Land Management). Please refer to the "Travel Opportunity Guide" for locations where you can ride. Under Utah state law, all public lands are closed to OHV use unless designated open by map, sign, or description. The closures protect sensitive natural resources such as watersheds and valued wildlife habitats, and ensure public safety.

The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources owns and manages several hundred thousand acres of Wildlife Management Areas across the state for wildlife purposes. Controlled OHV use on these lands protects wildlife and their habitats.

Utah law also requires youth, ages 8 to 16, to receive OHV certification before operating an OHV on open public-land roads and trails. Certification classes teach safety and instill ethics in young OHV users. Remember, to be a responsible rider also means receiving proper education.

Please call

1-800-OHV-RIDE

to enroll in the OHV safety certification classes.

Protect your privilege, stay on designated roads and trails. Have fun by taking time out to hunt, fish, photograph or watch wildlife.

Be a responsible OHV user so you can help ensure a wildlife heritage for future generations.

License Suspension

The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources has the authority to suspend hunting and fishing privileges for wildlife violations if the Division deems that the violation was committed knowingly, intentionally or recklessly. Any person who is convicted of, pleads guilty to, no contest to, or enters a plea in abeyance to, a wildlife violation may be subject to administrative suspension. Notification of such action is generally served only after criminal proceedings have been concluded. Any Utah order of suspension may be recognized in other states participating in the Wildlife Violator Compact.

PROTECT WILDLIFE HABITAT

Use of certified noxious weed-free hay and straw is required on all Federal and State Trust Lands.

Contact your County Extension Agent for weed free alternatives and available sources or go to <http://ag.utah.gov> → Weed Free Hay Vehicles, ATVs, and trailers should be weed-free upon entering Federal and State Trust Lands.

Report weed infestations to local land management offices.

Simply defined "poaching" is any illegal taking of fish, game or nongame wildlife.

- It is not a crime committed against the Division of Wildlife Resources, but a crime affecting all citizens of the State of Utah.
- Poachers steal from consumptive and nonconsumptive users alike. Present and future generations of law abiding outdoorsmen are the victims.
- Poachers erode public support of hunting and fishing. They threaten the existence of our sport. In short, poaching is a serious crime, and poachers are nothing more than thieves.

Every year the number of investigations involving the poaching of wildlife increases. This is due mainly to the help and support of sportsmen in the field doing their part by reporting wildlife crime. DO YOUR PART to defend wildlife and the right of future generations to enjoy it.

Chronic Wasting Disease

WHAT IS CHRONIC WASTING DISEASE?

Chronic wasting disease (CWD) is a relatively rare neurological disease found only in wild and captive deer and elk herds in North America. It is generally found in less than one percent of wild elk and between one to 15 percent of wild deer populations.

CWD belongs to a family of diseases known as transmissible spongiform encephalopathies (TSE) or prion diseases. Other TSE diseases include scrapie in domestic sheep, bovine spongiform encephalopathies or mad cow disease, and Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease in humans. Although CWD shares certain features with other TSE diseases, it is a distinct disease apparently affecting only deer and elk.

WHAT ARE THE CLINICAL SIGNS OF CWD?

Chronic wasting disease attacks the brains of infected deer and elk, causing the animals to become emaciated, display abnormal behavior, lose bodily function and eventually die.

Other symptoms include excessive salivation, loss of appetite, excessive thirst and urination, holding the head in a lowered position, and drooping ears.

There is currently no evidence that CWD is transmissible to humans. There is also no scientific evidence that chronic wasting disease can be naturally transmitted to livestock or other big game animals.

HOW IS CWD DIAGNOSED?

The prion that causes CWD accumulates in certain parts of an infected deer or elk including the brain, eyes, spinal cord, lymph nodes, tonsils, and spleen. The brain stem and/or lymph nodes are collected from dead deer or elk and examined microscopically using special techniques to identify the CWD prion.

CWD IN UTAH

Chronic wasting disease was first discovered in Colorado in the 1960s. CWD is now found in several states, including Utah. The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources (UDWR) first began looking for chronic wasting disease in 1998. More than 700 samples were taken from hunter-harvested deer and elk in 1998 and 1999. None of these samples tested positive for CWD. Because CWD-positive deer were discovered in western Colorado in 2002, the UDWR stepped up its surveillance program and looked more aggressively for the disease, testing nearly 1,100 deer. The first positive animal was identified in 2002 as a result of this testing effort near Vernal. For an update on CWD locations in Utah please view the UDWR website: wildlife.utah.gov. The UDWR will continue to conduct an annual surveillance program for the disease.

HOW CAN HUNTERS HELP?

Immediately report all deer that appear sick or emaciated to a UDWR office, biologist or officer.

Salt Lake Office	(801) 538-4700
Southeastern Region	(435) 636-0260
Central Region	(801) 491-5678
Northeastern Region	(435) 781-9453
Southern Region	(435) 865-6100
Northern Region	(801) 476-2740

Deer hunters can also help by providing the heads of harvested game animals for CWD testing at checking stations throughout the state. Hunters who harvest trophy animals from areas where testing is needed may be requested to cooperate by removing the cape from the deer in the field or by taking the head to a Division office immediately after it is capped. The UDWR can then remove a tissue sample from the head for testing.

CAN HUNTERS HAVE THEIR DEER AND ELK TESTED FOR CWD?

The UDWR has identified sample units throughout the state from which it will collect tissue samples from harvested deer. Checking stations will be established throughout the state during hunting season to collect these samples. Samples collected by UDWR will be tested without cost to the hunter. The UDWR is not currently conducting a surveillance program to test elk because of the low prevalence rate of CWD. Hunters who have their deer sampled by the UDWR can find the results of the test on the UDWR Web site: wildlife.utah.gov/cwdtesting/. Please allow 6-8 weeks for processing. To access the results, hunters will need the submission number from the data collection receipt issued at the time their deer is sampled. Furthermore, hunters will be notified personally, if their animal tests positive for CWD.

Anyone who harvests a deer or elk outside of UDWR sample units, and wishes to have it tested for chronic wasting disease may do so at their own expense. They can call a UDWR office or check the division website for the location of public testing facilities.

The sampling and testing procedures established by the UDWR are intended only to serve as a method to screen for evidence of CWD infection. They are not meant to provide assurance of meat quality for human consumption. The tests that are performed have a high accuracy rate, but no testing process can provide 100% accuracy. The sensitivity and accuracy of the tests, or ability to detect CWD, can vary depending on the quality of the sample and the stage of the infection.

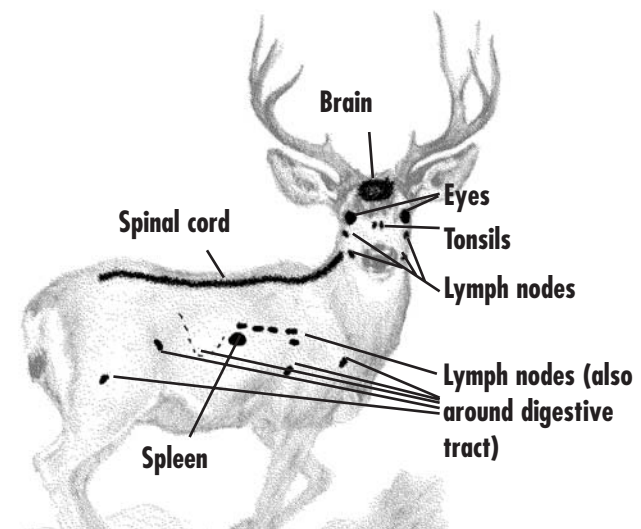

SHOULD UTAH HUNTERS BE CONCERNED ABOUT CWD?

The World Health Organization has stated: "There is currently no evidence that CWD in cervidae (deer and elk) is transmitted to humans."

While there is currently no evidence that CWD affects humans, hunters may wish to take these simple precautions when handling deer and elk carcasses:

- Do not harvest or eat animals that appear sick.
- Wear rubber or latex gloves when field dressing and processing game meat.
- Bone out the meat from the deer or elk and remove all fat, membranes and connective tissue.
- Minimize handling of the brain, spinal cord, spleen and lymph nodes. Do not cut through the spinal cord except to remove the head.
- Do not consume the brain, spinal cord, eyes, spleen, tonsils or lymph nodes.
- Do not use household utensils to field dress or process meat. Thoroughly clean all knives, equipment and work areas with a 50/50 solution of household bleach and water.

(d) if one or more members of the group is rejected due to an error other than fees, the members with valid applications will be kept in the drawing, unless the group indicates on the application that all members are to be rejected.

3. Buck Pronghorn (2-year waiting period) R657-5-32

(1) A person who obtained a buck pronghorn or Cooperative Wildlife Management unit buck pronghorn permit through the big game drawing process in 2003 or 2004 may not apply in the big game drawing for a buck pronghorn permit in 2005.

(2) A person who obtains a buck pronghorn or a Cooperative Wildlife Management unit buck pronghorn permit through the big game drawing process in 2005 may not apply in the big game drawing for either of these permits again until 2008.

4. Once-In-A-Lifetime Permits R657-5-34

(1) A waiting period or once-in-a-lifetime status does not apply to purchasing limited entry landowner or Cooperative Wildlife Management unit permits obtained through a landowner, except as provided in Subsection (2).

BONUS POINTS

Bonus points apply to each species in the Bucks, Bulls and Once-in-a-Lifetime Drawing. A bonus point is awarded for each unsuccessful application to hunt premium limited entry, limited entry, and CMWU buck deer, bull elk and pronghorn, and for unsuccessful applications for the state's once-in-a-lifetime species - bison, bighorn sheep, moose and mountain goat.

An individual, who does not want to hunt in the current year, may still apply for a bonus point only, for one or more species, by selecting the appropriate bonus point code and paying the $5 handling fee. The application period is January 3–31, 2005.

Because bonus points are applied for by species, any person who is eligible to hunt the species may apply for a bonus point for premium limited entry, limited entry, or once-in-a-lifetime, even if that particular hunt is not being offered that year.

To apply for a bonus point, you must be eligible for the hunt for which you are applying. For example, if you are eligible for a limited entry buck deer permit, you are eligible to apply for a limited entry buck deer bonus point.

You can apply for:

- one limited entry permit and one once-in-a lifetime permit; or
- one limited entry bonus point and one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point; or
- one limited entry permit and one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point; or
- one limited entry bonus point and one once-in-a-lifetime permit.

If you apply for a permit, and a bonus point for the same species, your application will be rejected.

If you apply for more than one premium limited entry or limited entry bonus point, your application will be rejected.

If you apply for more than one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point, your application will be rejected.

Your general buck deer permit application does not affect bonus points for limited entry deer. If you draw a general buck deer permit, you will still receive a bonus point for your unsuccessful premium limited entry, limited entry or CWMU application.

The division has retained electronic copies of application information from 1996 to present.

How your Bonus Points work in the draw:

Fifty percent (odd numbers are rounded down) of the permits for each hunt unit and species are reserved for applicants with the most bonus points.

You receive one random drawing number for each species you apply for and one for every bonus point you have for that species. Your lowest random number is used in the drawing.

Bonus points are averaged and rounded down when two or more applicants apply as a group. For example, if hunter A with seven bonus points and hunter B with zero bonus points apply as a group, the bonus points are averaged (3.5) and rounded down to three. The group receives three random draw numbers for the bonus points, plus one random draw number for the group application, for a total of four draw numbers. The lowest random number is used in the drawing.

In the draw for limited entry buck deer, the applications are sorted into groups by the number of bonus points, from highest to lowest — a 10 Bonus Point Group, a 9 Bonus Point Group, etc. Hunters applying alone will be treated as a group of one. Within each group of bonus points for limited entry buck deer, the applications are sorted from lowest to highest draw number. Permits are awarded in order, based on the hunt choice selected.

Any person may surrender their premium limited entry, limited entry or once-in-a-lifetime permit prior to the season opening date, for the purpose of waiving the waiting period normally assessed and reinstating the number of bonus points, including a bonus point for the current year (just as if a permit had not been drawn).

You cannot apply for a hunt or receive a Bonus Point if:

- You are currently under wildlife license suspension for big game hunting
- You are currently under a waiting period for that species
- You have already obtained a permit for that once-in-a-lifetime species
- You have not met the required harvest reporting requirement for premium limited entry, limited entry or once-in-a-lifetime species

For a complete copy of these regulations (R657-5-37) visit wildlife.utah.gov/rules/r657-5.html on the Web or call any Division office.

(2) Waiting periods are incurred for the purpose of applying in the big game drawing as a result of obtaining a Cooperative Wildlife Management unit bull moose permit through a landowner.

E. APPLICATION WITHDRAWAL FOR GENERAL BUCK DEER AND YOUTH GENERAL ANY BULL ELK (YH499)

R657-5-62

(1) A person may withdraw their application for the big game drawing by

PREFERENCE POINTS

Preference points are used to ensure that applicants who are unsuccessful, or who apply for a preference point in the drawing for general buck deer, will have first preference in the next year's drawing for the respective permits.

Preference points only apply to general buck deer hunts and are awarded for each unsuccessful general buck deer application.

An individual, who does not want to hunt in the current year, may apply for a preference point only, for general buck deer by selecting the appropriate preference point code and paying the $5 handling fee. The application period is January 3–31, 2005.

A preference point will not be issued if an applicant is successful in drawing any general buck deer permit, regardless of the region or choice number. For example, if an applicant chooses the Southeastern Region as a first choice and the Northern Region as a second choice, and draws the Northern Region permit (the second choice), a preference point will not be awarded.

Preference points are not forfeited if an individual obtains a remaining permit.

The division has retained electronic records of all general buck deer application information from the year 2000 to present.

How your Preference Points work in the draw:

Preference points are averaged and rounded down when two or more applicants apply as a group. For example, if hunter A with three preference points and hunter B with zero preference points apply as a group, the preference points are averaged (1.5) and rounded down to one. This process will determine in which group of preference points your application will be considered. This group with one preference point will be considered after all groups or individuals with two or more preference points and before all groups or individuals with zero preference points.

In a second example, if hunter A with one preference point and hunter B with zero preference points apply as a group, the preference points are averaged (0.5) and rounded down to zero. This process will determine in which group of preference points your application will be considered. This group with zero preference points will be considered after all groups or individuals with one or more preference points have been considered.

Hunters applying alone will be treated as a group of one.

In the drawing, the general buck deer applications are sorted into groups by the number of preference points, from highest to lowest - a 4 Preference Point Group, a 3 Preference Point Group, etc. Within each group of preference points, the applications are then sorted from lowest to highest draw numbers. (You receive only one random draw number for the general deer hunt.) Permits are awarded in order, based on the hunt choice selected.

Applicants who apply for a general buck deer permit will receive a preference point, even if they are successful in obtaining a premium limited entry, limited entry, or CWMU deer or elk permit in the drawing.

An individual may surrender their general buck deer permit prior to the season opening date for the purpose of reinstating the number of preference points, including a preference point for the current year (just as if a permit had not been drawn).

You cannot apply for a General Buck Deer Permit or a Preference Point if:

You are currently under wildlife license suspension for big game hunting.

(2) In addition to a lifetime license card, each lifetime licensee shall receive without charge, a permit and tag of his choice for one of the following general deer hunts:

- (a) general archery buck deer;

(c) As used in this section "reasonable notice" means that a big game application was sent within a reasonable time before the application period to the most recent address given to the Division by the lifetime licensee.

(4)(a) Lifetime licensees may apply for or obtain general deer preference points or permits through the big game general buck deer drawing as provided in Rule R657-5 and this proclamation, provided the lifetime licensee waives their choice of general deer permits as provided in Section XIX.F.1.(2) and the region in which the lifetime licensee chooses to hunt.

(4) Applying for or obtaining an antlerless deer, antlerless elk or doe pronghorn permit does not affect eligibility for obtaining a general buck deer permit.

(5) All rules established by the Wildlife Board regarding the availability of big game permits in relation to obtaining general deer permits shall apply to lifetime licensees.

(6) A lifetime licensee who does not qualify as a resident shall purchase the required nonresident permits or tags required for hunting, except as provided in Subsection XVII.F.1.(2).

G. DEDICATED HUNTER PROGRAM R657-38

Since its inception in 1995, the Dedicated Hunter program has provided sportsmen an opportunity to become involved with hands-on conservation projects. Participants in this program are wildlife enthusiasts who are dedicated to Utah's wildlife resources.

Upon completion of program requirements, participants receive a guaranteed permit to hunt the buck deer general archery, rifle and muzzleloader seasons in the region of their choice. Participants agree to harvest only two deer using Dedicated Hunter Permits during their three-year enrollment period, and may not harvest two deer in the same year.

The program currently has more than 7,700 participants and is steadily growing. There is a 10,000 cap on the number of people who can be in the program.

Program Requirements

In exchange for these additional hunting opportunities, participants must provide a total of 24 hours of service as a volunteer on Wildlife Conservation Projects, attend one Regional Advisory Council (RAC) meeting, complete a Wildlife Conservation Course and return unused Dedicated Hunter Permits and attached tags to the division.

Participants may choose to substitute some of their Wildlife Conservation Project hours by paying a fee of $20 per hour. Participants who are residents of Utah may not purchase more than 16 of the required 24 service hours, however.

Eight hours of volunteer service on a Wildlife Conservation Project must be completed before obtaining the first Dedicated Hunter Permit. All 24 hours and the RAC meeting must be completed before a second Dedicated Hunter Permit is issued. Wildlife Conservation Projects are listed online at wildlife.utah.gov/dh/projects.html

The Wildlife Conservation Course must be completed before the Dedicated Hunter Certificate of Registration (COR) is used. The course can be taken online at wildlife.utah.gov/dh/conservation_course.html

Important Dates

January 1 – January 31

The application period to enroll or re-enroll in the Dedicated Hunter program starts Jan. 1 and ends Jan. 31.

January 31

Participants who do not return their unused Dedicated Hunter Permit by the Jan. 31 annually will be credited with a program harvest, even if they did not harvest a deer. This counts toward the two deer participants may harvest with Dedicated Hunter Permits during the three-year enrollment period. Permits returned after the deadline will be accepted and the credited program harvest will be removed.

Participants who return permits after the Jan. 31 deadline who are then credited with a second program harvest are ONLY eligible to obtain their Dedicated Hunter Permit for an available region if permits remain after the big game drawing. These participants must obtain their Dedicated Hunter Permit over-the-counter at a division office. If there are no permits remaining after the big game drawing no additional Dedicated Hunter Permits will be issued.

(i) by mailing the vouchers to the Division,

CWMU Licensing

1594 W. No. Temple, Suite 2110

Box 146301

Salt Lake City, UT 84114,

to obtain permits (please allow 10 to 14 days for processing); or

(ii) over-the-counter at any Division office.

(5) Waiting periods apply to CWMU permits as provided in XVII.I. Waiting Periods.

(6) A person may not obtain more than one permit for each species of big game, except as provided in this proclamation, the Antlerless Addendum and Utah Admin. Code Rule R657-42.

More than 60% of the state's big game winter range occurs on private land. The increasing development to satisfy human needs on these ranges will significantly reduce Utah's big game herds and recreational opportunities unless actions are taken to preserve these lands. The Cooperative Wildlife Management Unit (CWMU) Program has been developed to help in the preservation effort.

The CWMU Program provides economic incentive to landowners to keep private range and forest lands in wildlife habitat rather than succumbing to development. CWMUs also allow for free public hunting access onto the private lands enrolled in the program.

CWMUs comprise more than 1.8 million acres of land and will provide nearly 3,000 hunting permits for bucks and bulls in 2005. About 15% of these permits will be provided to the general public through a drawing.

Both private and public hunters generally enjoy greater hunting benefits on CWMUs in the form of improved harvest success and reduced hunter competition. While good opportunity exists for hunters to take mature animals, harvest is not guaranteed and the quality of male animals may differ greatly between units. If it is the hunter's goal to harvest a "trophy" animal, you should contact the operator of the CWMU to better understand trophy potential before applying for the hunt.

Successful applicants must contact the CWMU operator to obtain the following:

(a) Hunting dates of guaranteed access within the legal CWMU hunting season framework. Realize that both the operator and the hunter must schedule around individual needs — be realistic and patient.

(b) A map of the CWMU showing access and the acreage you will be allowed to hunt. The CWMU acreage should be equally available to private and public CWMU hunters.

(c) A copy of rules — CWMUs are allowed to develop rules of conduct for their unit. Examples of requirements may include: no pre-season scouting, checking into and out of the unit daily, limited vehicle access, no over-night camping, a marksmanship test, limiting the number of hunting companions, etc. Hunters may be asked to leave a CWMU for failure to abide by reasonable rules of conduct.

Complaint Process: Hunters wishing to lodge complaints against a CWMU should contact the division immediately. Biologists and Conservation Officers have access to complaint forms. Otherwise, the complaint may be made in person or over the telephone. Because time is of the essence, it is expected that the hunter and the operator will make every effort to resolve issues before they escalate to the division level. If a problem cannot be resolved locally, it may be passed on to a CWMU Advisory Committee.

DEPREDATION PERMITS R657-44

Buck deer, bull elk, or buck pronghorn depredation hunts that are not published in the proclamation of the Wildlife Board for taking big game, may be held when the buck deer, bull elk, or buck pronghorn are:

- causing damage to cultivated crops on cleared and planted land, or fences or irrigation equipment on private land
- a significant public safety hazard
- causing a nuisance in urban areas

Depredation hunts may occur on short notice, involve small areas, and be limited to only a few hunters. Participants will be selected and hunts conducted in accordance with Rule R657-44 which may be viewed at: wildlife.utah.gov/rules/r657-44.html.

DEPREDATION HUNTER POOL APPLICATION

When deer, elk or pronghorn antelope are causing damage, hunts not listed in this proclamation may be held. These hunts occur on short notice, involve small areas, are limited to only a few hunters and are typically for antlerless animals. The depredation hunter pool application provides the Division's regional offices with names of hunters who are interested in participating in the above-mentioned hunts. Hunters who participate in any deer, elk, or pronghorn depredation hunt may not possess an additional permit for that species during the same year, except as provided in Rule R657-5 and this proclamation. Depredation hunts will be conducted in accordance with Rule R657-44 which may be viewed at: wildlife.utah.gov/rules/r657-44

ON THE COVER:

Mule deer by Ron Anderson

I am Ronald Oluf Anderson, born and raised in this great State of Utah! I started drawing wildlife at the age of eight. It was not lost on Mom and Dad that God had blessed me with a love of life and a burning desire to capture it, by the moment, for others to enjoy. They gave me my first set of paints at the age of twelve. I have been painting ever since!

My greatest goal is to capture a mood, and to evoke a response! I consider myself an avid outdoorsman who loves to hunt and fish. I know the experiences of like minded individuals burns deep, creating lasting memories. To produce a piece of art that will let the viewer recall such an experience, well, I would consider that the ultimate achievement!

I dream of what it would have been like to be here in the West at the time Carl Rungis.... Since the first time I saw a Bob Kunz masterpiece on the cover of Readers Digest, I've desired to follow those footsteps. I don't know if I will ever master the subject matter like Leon Parsons, Robert Bateman, Nancy Glazier, and so many more artists! They set a lofty goal to achieve and that is my aim.

I thank the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources for the opportunity to share my art work with the public.

I HAVE WORKS THAT ARE FOR SALE

- You can see my work at the Freedom Gallery on 20 West Center, Provo, Utah (Thanks Blaine, LuAnna & Kim!)

Utah wildlife management is a public process!

et involved in the decision-making process regarding Utah wildlife management, rules and regulations. Attend your local wildlife Regional Advisory Council (RAC) meetings. The Utah State Legislature created the RACs in the early 1990s to gather public input from citizens at the grassroots level about wildlife management issues. The five RACs in the state each consist of 12 to 15 members who represent various interests and groups:

- agriculture
- sportsmen
- nonconsumptive wildlife
- locally elected public officials
- federal land agencies
- public at large

The RACs gather public input at regularly scheduled meetings throughout the state and make recommendations to the Utah Wildlife Board in an advisory capacity. The Wildlife Board relies heavily on input from the RACs when establishing policy, rules and regulations for the Division of Wildlife Resources.

In these open public meetings, citizens are encouraged to ask questions and express opinions and ideas in a structured forum. This is your opportunity to make a difference.
